NOTICE

September 1, 1938.

To The Members of The Institute:

For many years The Institute published "The Annuary" which contained a roster of its members in alphabetical order, and according to chapter.

The publication of that document was discontinued with the edition of 1934, due to the necessity for economy.

In 1936 the October number of The Octagon was issued as the "Annuary" number. It was essential to place in the hands of the membership a current record of Institute officers and directors, committees, corporate members, state association members, honorary members, and honorary corresponding members.

That procedure met with general approval. Suggestions were made that in the future chapter rolls of corporate members be included.

Therefore, it seems appropriate and desirable to devote exclusively this September number of The Octagon to the publication of an up-to-date record of the personnel of The Institute, and of certain fundamental documents and data.

It is hoped that this number of The Octagon will meet with approval, and that the additional expense of publishing it will be justified by its usefulness.

Each member is requested to preserve this copy of The Octagon, which is especially bound for that purpose, until such time as it becomes desirable and possible to print another up-to-date record or to renew the publication of "The Annuary".

Charles T. Ingham,
Secretary.

THE SCHOOL MEDAL

THE award of School Medals was established in 1914. They are awarded each year for general excellence in architecture, under certain general conditions, to students of architectural schools recognized by The Institute. The winners are nominated by the various faculties. These medals are of silver, and each is accompanied by a copy of Mont St. Michel and Chartres by Henry Adams, the copyright of which was bequeathed to The Institute by the author. Another copy of the book may be presented as a second prize.

Fellows and Members—1938

All Fellows and Members are corporate members of The Institute.

"F" signifies "Fellow" and is followed by the date of election to Fellowship. (In the year 1889 all of the members of the Western Association were admitted to The Institute as Fellows. Each of these is indicated by the initials "W.A." followed by the date of his election to the Western Association.)

"M" followed by year of election signifies "Member" and is used only when followed by designation of election to Fellowship.

"A" followed by year of election indicates election to the old associate class which was changed to member class in 1910, and is used only when followed by designation of Fellowship and year of election thereto.

"E", in parentheses, signifies "Member Emeritus".
Life Member, in italics, signifies that the Member has become a Life Member. The class was established by the Sixtieth Convention, May 11-13, 1927.

(*) Indicates that membership has not been continuous.

Principles of Professional Practice

The American Institute of Architects, seeking to maintain a high standard of practice and conduct on the part of its members as a safeguard of the important financial, technical and esthetic interests entrusted to them, offers the following advice relative to professional practice:

The profession of architecture calls for men of the highest integrity, business capacity and artistic ability. The architect is entrusted with financial undertakings in which his honesty of purpose must be above suspicion; he acts as professional adviser to his client and his advice must be absolutely disinterested; he is charged with the exercise of judicial functions as between client and contractors and must act with entire impartiality; he has moral responsibilities to his professional associates and subordinates; finally he is engaged in a profession which carries with it grave responsibility to the public. These duties and responsibilities cannot be properly discharged unless his motives, conduct, and ability are such as to command respect and confidence.

Upon the foregoing basic principles the experience of The Institute leads it to advise in respect to specific instances as follows:

1.—The relation of an architect to his client is one depending upon good faith. An architect will explain the conditional character of estimates made before final drawings and specifications are complete and will not by careless statements mislead a client as to the probable cost of a building. If the architect guarantees an estimate he becomes legally responsible and he should not make any guarantee which affects the quality of his advice.

2.—The contractor depends upon the architect to guard his interests as well as those of the client. An architect will condemn workmanship and materials which are not in conformity with the contract documents but it is also his duty to give every reasonable aid towards a more complete understanding of these documents so that mistakes may be avoided. He will not call upon a contractor to make good oversights and errors in the contract documents.

3.—An exchange of information between architects and those who supply and handle building materials is encouraged and commended but the use of the free engineering service which is offered by manufacturers and jobbers of building materials, appliances and equipment is accompanied by an obligation which may become detrimental to the best interest of the owner.

4.—The American Institute of Architects has set forth a schedule or guide by which the proper professional charges may be determined. The architect's charges for his professional service shall be made to the client only, and he will not receive commissions, fees, gifts, favors or any substantial service from a contractor, or from any interested person other than the client. He will not knowingly compete with a fellow architect on a basis of professional charges.

5.—An architect in his investments and in his business relations outside of his profession must be free from financial or personal interests which tend to weaken or discredit his standing as an unprejudiced and honest adviser, free to act in his client's best interests.

6.—An architect will not advertise for the purpose of self-laudatory publicity, but publicity of the standards, aims and progress of the profession is to be commended. He will not take part or give any assistance in obtaining advertisements or other support towards meeting the expense of any publication illustrating his work; nor will he permit others to solicit such advertisements or other support; he will not sanction the publication of a brochure or catalogue illustrating his work, when the cost of such publication is paid for by advertisements, regardless of whether he takes part or gives any assistance in obtaining such advertisements.

7.—An architect may introduce to a possible client the service which he is able to perform but will not, except under unusual circumstances, offer to continue this service without compensation until it has been approved; and in no case will he offer this service in competition with others except as provided in Article 9.

8.—An architect will not falsely or maliciously injure, directly or indirectly, the professional reputation, prospects or business of a fellow architect. He will not attempt to supplant another architect after definite steps have been taken by a client toward his employment; nor will he undertake a commission for which another has been previously employed until he has determined that the original employment has been definitely terminated.

9.—The American Institute of Architects has issued a Circular of Information in regard to Competitions. An architect will take no part in a competition which does not include the provisions which experience has found to be necessary if the best interests of the owner and of the architect are to be safeguarded.

No set of rules can be framed which will particularize all the duties of the architect in his various relations with his clients, with contractors, with his professional brethren and with the public. The principles that have been outlined should, however, together with such circulars and codes as The Institute may from time to time promulgate, govern the conduct of members of the profession and should serve as a guide in circumstances other than those enumerated. Since adherence to these principles is the obligation of every member of The American Institute of Architects, any deviation therefrom is subject to discipline in proportion to its seriousness. The Committee on Practice and The Judiciary Committee and finally The Board of Directors of The American Institute of Architects shall have sole power of interpreting these Principles of Professional Practice and their decisions shall be final, subject to the provisions of the By-laws.

NOTICE.—This document was approved and adopted by the Sixtieth Convention, May 11-13, 1927. It supersedes the previous document known as The Principles of Professional Practice and Canons of Ethics—A. I. A. Document No. 192. Amended at the 65th Convention, April 27-29, 1932; and at the 67th Convention, May 28-31, 1935.

A. I. A. Document No. 177

Professional Practice of Architects

Details of Service to be Rendered
Schedule of Proper Minimum Charges

1. The Architect's professional services consist of the necessary conferences, the preparation of preliminary studies, working drawings, specifications, large scale and full size detail drawings; the drafting of forms of proposals and contracts; the issuance of certificates of payment; the keeping of accounts, the general administration of the business and supervision of the work, for which, except as hereinafter mentioned, a proper minimum charge, based upon the total cost of the work complete, is six per cent.

2. On residential work, alterations to existing buildings, monuments, furniture, decorative and cabinet work and landscape architecture, it is proper to make a higher charge than above indicated.

3. The Architect is entitled to compensation for articles purchased under his direction, even though not designed by him.

4. Where the Architect is not otherwise retained, consultation fees for professional advice are to be paid in proportion to the importance of the question involved and services rendered.

5. The Architect is to be reimbursed the costs of transportation and living incurred by him and his assistants while traveling in discharge of duties connected with the work, and the costs of the services of heating, ventilating, mechanical, and electrical engineers.

6. The rate of percentage arising from Articles 1 and 2 hereof, i. e., the basic rate, applies when all of the work is let under one contract. Should the Owner determine to have certain portions of the work executed under separate contracts, as the Architect's burden of service, expense and responsibility is thereby increased, the rate in connection with such portions of the work is greater (usually by four per cent) than the basic rate. Should the Owner determine to have substantially the entire work executed under separate contracts, then such higher rate applies to the entire work. In any event, however, the basic rate, without increase, applies to contracts for any portions of the work on which the Owner reimburses the engineer's fees to the Architect.

7. If, after a definite scheme has been approved the Owner makes a decision which, for its proper execution, involves extra services and expense for changes in or additions to the drawings, specifications or other documents; or if a contract be let by cost of labor and materials plus a percentage or fixed sum; or if the Architect be put to labor or expense by delays caused by the Owner or a contractor, or by the delinquency or insolvency of either, or as a result of damage by fire or other casualty, he is to be equitably paid for such extra service and expense.

8. Should the execution of any work designed or specified by the Architect or any part of such work be abandoned or suspended, the Architect is to be paid in accordance with or in proportion to the terms of Article 9 of this Schedule for the service rendered, up to the time of such abandonment or suspension.

9. Whether the work be executed or whether its execution be suspended or abandoned in part or whole, payments to the Architect on his fee are subject to the provisions of Articles 7 and 8, made as follows:

Upon completion of the preliminary studies, a sum equal to twenty per cent of the basic rate computed upon a reasonable estimated cost.

Upon completion of specifications and general working drawings (exclusive of details) a sum sufficient to increase payments on the fee to sixty per cent of the rate or rates of commission agreed upon, as influenced by Article 6, computed upon a reasonable cost estimated on such completed specifications and drawings, or if bids have been received, then computed upon the lowest bona fide bid or bids.

During the preparation of the preliminary studies and of the specifications and general working drawings, it is proper that payments on account be made at monthly or other intervals, in proportion to the progress of the architect's service, and so as to aggregate in each period not more than the sums described above.

From time to time during the execution of work and in proportion to the amount of service rendered by the Architect, payments are made until the aggregate of all payments made on account of the fee under this Article reaches a sum equal to the rate or rates of commission agreed upon as influenced by Article 6, computed upon the final cost of the work.

Payments to the Architect, other than those on his fee, fall due from time to time as his work is done or as costs are incurred.

No deduction is made from the Architect's fee on account of the use of old materials, penalty, liquidated damages or other sums withheld from payments to contractors.

10. The Owner is to furnish the Architect with a complete and accurate survey of the building site, giving the grades and lines of streets, pavements and adjoining properties; the rights, restrictions, easements, boundaries and contours of the building site, and full information as to sewer, water, gas and electrical service. The Owner is to pay for borings or test pits and for chemical, mechanical or other tests, when required.

11. The Architect endeavors to guard the Owner against defects and deficiencies in the work of contractors, but does not guarantee the performance of their contracts. The supervision of an architect is to be distinguished from the continuous personal superintendence to be obtained by the employment of a clerk of the works.

When authorized by the Owner, a clerk of the works, acceptable to both Owner and Architect, is to be engaged by the Architect at a salary satisfactory to the Owner and paid by the Owner, upon presentation of the Architect's monthly certificates.

12. When requested to do so, the Architect makes or procures preliminary estimates on the cost of the work and he endeavors to keep the actual cost of the work as low as may be consistent with the purpose of the building and with proper workmanship and material, but no such estimate can be regarded as other than an approximation.

13. Drawings and specifications, as instruments of service, are the property of the Architect, whether the work for which they are made be executed or not.

The words "the cost of the work," as used in Articles 1 and 9 hereof, are ordinarily to be interpreted as meaning the total of the contract sums incurred for the execution of the work not including Architect's and Engineer's fees or the salary of the clerk of the works, but in certain rare cases, e. g. when labor or material is furnished by the Owner below its market cost or when old materials are re-used, the cost of the work is to be interpreted as the cost of all materials and labor necessary to complete the work, as such cost would have been if all materials had been new and if all labor had been fully paid at market prices current when the work was ordered, plus contractor's profits and expenses.

As adopted at the Washington Convention, December 15-17, 1908; and revised in form at the 50th Convention, December 6-8, 1916, at the 54th Convention, May 11-13, 1921, and at the 55th Convention, June 7-9, 1922.

THE By-laws of The Institute relative to the approval of competition programs read, in part, as follows:

Chapter XII, Article 2, Section 5. The Committee on Architectural Competitions.

(a) Duties. There shall be an administrative committee called The Committee on Architectural Competitions. It shall be its duty, first, to interpret from time to time the provisions of the Standards of Practice of The Institute relating to architectural competitions for the guidance of the members; second, to have general oversight of sub-committees of chapters created in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c-1) of this section; third, to advise regarding the desirability of holding architectural competitions or any thereof, or regarding the appointment of any person to act as professional advisor or as a member of the jury of award of any such competition, regarding terms and conditions of any architectural competition program; fourth, to approve or disapprove programs submitted to the committee by The Board or by any of said chapter sub-committees; fifth, to prepare from time to time revisions of the said Standards of Practice relating to architectural competitions as The Board or the committee deems necessary and submit the same to The Board.

(b) Authority of Chairman of The Committee on Architectural Competitions. The chairman and any two other members of The Committee on Architectural Competitions whom he selects shall have the authority to and may make, by a concurring vote by letter or otherwise, the interpretations of the said Standards of Practice relating to architectural competitions, give the requested advice, and pass upon and approve or disapprove the programs of competitions for and in behalf of the committee; provided, that in an emergency the chairman of the committee shall have such authority and may act without the concurrence of the other members of the committee.

* * *

(c-1) Whenever the chairman of The Committee on Architectural Competitions deems it advisable, he may appoint a sub-committee in any chapter to act for The Committee on Architectural Competitions regarding architectural competitions for work to be erected within the territory of the chapter. Each such sub-committee shall consist of three members, who shall be approved by The President of The Institute, and their respective terms of office shall terminate at the will of the chairman of The Committee on Architectural Competitions.
